

Nazifa worked on printing the 3d model, helped assemble the model, and helped with the electronics. She also helped with iterating upon the model in Fusion 360.

Joey helped put together the electronics and worked building the model and making sure all of it was together correctly. She also helped with making sure the arduino code functioned.

Natasha helped iterate upon the model in Fusion 360, and helped work the wiring and build the controller. She also put together the QFD information.